RURAL DEVELOPMENT

Promoting holistic development of rural communities

KEY INTERVENTIONS

Over 50% of Bihar’s population is multidimensionally poor. Agriculture, once its economic bedrock, suffers due to reasons ranging from flooding to inadequate farming methods. This results in mass migrations, which bring with it its own set of problems such as exploitation, food insecurity & health degradation.

HDFC Bank’s Holistic Rural Development Programme (HRDP) is working towards improving livelihoods in these villages through:

- Advanced farming practices
- Solar power-based group irrigation to promote multi-cropping
- Ensuring access to clean drinking water & sanitation
- Promotion of green energy

ECONOMICALLY EMPOWERING SITAMARHI | DISTRICT - SITAMARHI

Parivartan conceptualised a project in Sitamarhi district which covered 15 villages and was implemented by Oxfam. The project was designed with an aim of contributing toward socio-economic empowerment of marginal communities by focussing on:

- Building capacity and creating master trainees amongst farmers
- Promoting climate smart agricultural practices,
- Establishing connections with markets, financial institutions and health facilities
- Constructing sanitation units and high raised hand pumps

Thus, enhancing sustainable livelihood options and improving essential services for the people of Sitamarhi.

INSTALLATION OF SOLAR STREET LIGHTS | DISTRICT - SHEIKHPURA

HDFC Bank, Parivartan installed over 100 solar street lights across 15 intervention villages to ensure proper lighting of the village, increased security and an overall better lifestyle for villagers.

ENABLING SOLAR IRRIGATION SYSTEMS | DISTRICT - SHEIKHPURA

HDFC Bank, Parivartan set up solar powered group irrigation systems in 3 villages, Belchhi, Andauli and Basant in Chewara Block. This enabled irrigation of 100 acres of land in these villages, reduced the cost of farmers and maximised output in intervention area.

BIO RESOURCE CENTER: CATALYSING REGENERATIVE AGRICULTURE | DISTRICT - BANKA, KISHANGANJ

The Bio Resource Center (BRC) by HDFC Bank Parivartan is empowering rural women entrepreneurs who are trained to produce vital bio inputs, enhancing regenerative farming practices and reducing chemical usage. These bio inputs, including Super compost, Jeevamrit, Bijamrit, Agneyastra, Neemastra, Mathastra, and Humic acid, are employed by 300 farmers in producer groups cultivating cash crops. The strategic use of 3 metric tons of super compost has resulted in increased production and improved output quality, leading to better selling prices for the farmers. The Bio Resource Center is driving positive change towards regenerative agriculture.

ENHANCING INCOME THROUGH POLYHOUSE STRUCTURE | DISTRICT - BANKA, JAMUI, SAMASTIPUR AND KISHANGANJ

In collaboration with PRADAN, HDFC Bank Parivartan is working to uplift the income of 31 women farmers across Banka, Jamui, Samastipur, and Kishanganj districts through polyhouse structures. These structures enable women farmers to cultivate high-value cash crops like seedless cucumber, capsicum, French beans, brinjal, and more. The women undergo comprehensive training in transplantation, paste management, and cash crop farming. The strategic selection of crops based on weather conditions and market demand allows them to supply produce early, fetching higher prices. With earnings ranging from 35,000 to 40,000 rupees per farmer in a single season, this initiative not only boosts their income but also establishes a sustainable agricultural model in these districts.

CATTLE FEED ENTERPRISE FOR RURAL PROSPERITY | DISTRICT - BEGUSARAI

With support by HDFC Bank Parivartan, NIRDESH collaborated with "Sadhna Swayam Sahayita Sumuh," comprising 11 women in Chakka Village, under the Holistic Rural Development Programme. They've established a Community Enterprise for Cattle Feed Production (Bhagirath Pashu Aahar Utpadan Kendra) to boost the income of women farmers. The initiative aims to produce and sell cattle feed locally and externally. Chakka Village, primarily dependent on cultivation and animal rearing, faces challenges in accessing quality fodder. The Community Enterprise addresses this need, encouraging micro-enterprises to benefit farmers in 15 surrounding villages. The enterprise initially targets Chokar, Plete, and Flour/Maida production, with an initial monthly earning of Rs.7000 per member, expected to increase to Rs.10,000-15,000.

PROMOTION OF EDUCATION

Creating a conducive learning environment in communities

CREATING S.A.F.E. COMMUNITIES

Rural Bihar faces numerous challenges in the education sector resulting in low-attendance levels & even school drop-outs. Additionally, rampant social evils have long hampered the upbringing of many children.

Aiming at overhauling the root causes, the S.A.F.E. project - a comprehensive initiative from Parivartan - aims at providing:

- Safety & protection to children
- Easy access to government schemes
- Family & community support
- Education & employment

In addition to the above:

- Women are empowered to deal with these issues
- Special safety networks are created to identify cases of child exploitation & harm
- Awareness sessions are organised for families regarding safety precautions for their children
- Families are linked to government schemes, enabling them to provide education to their children

All of these components of the programme have cumulatively led to safer schools & further willingness of parents to ensure education for their children, thus eliminating other social evils.

Parivartan along with Nav Jagriti has undertaken preliminary visits to the schools & villages, interacted with the teachers and adolescents in order to prepare for the subsequent steps of action. The team met adolescents and successfully formed 15 groups.

OPTIMISING LEARNING

Quality education during the pandemic became a distant dream for many. Various issues such as lack of guidance under renowned institutions, cropped up. Parivartan, along with Khan Academy, announced a four year alliance to distribute high-quality learning resources to equip students with better foundational understanding of mathematics and improve their learning outcomes. The courses were free of cost in English, Hinglish, Hindi, Kannada, Punjabi and Gujarati, aligned to the Indian curriculum. Through online education students had access to high-quality learning materials in their language for free. Moreover, it empowered teachers to improve children's learning outcomes, which benefited 150,000 students in grades 6-12, spanning over 1500 schools and 3000+ teachers in Jawahar Navodaya Vidyalayas and government-funded schools over a period of 3-4 years, across India.

PROMOTION OF MUSHROOM CULTIVATION | DISTRICTS - SHEIKHUPURA

Encouraging entrepreneurship can help in enhancing income and achieving financial freedom among the rural women in India. HDFC Bank Parivartan, in association with Maa Durga SHG and Radha SHG of the Pahepur, and Sheikhpura districts have launched an intervention to promote mushroom cultivation as part of local integrated farming initiatives. Under this program 10 members from each of these SHGs have been trained in button mushroom cultivation, the process, compost preparation and to run the micro enterprise by an agriculture coordinator. And also they were provided with support for setting up a production centre of 1250 sq feet, fitted with multi-layered beds. The intervention has helped the members gain skills and expertise in this promising field.

PROVIDING SKILL-TRAINING TO RURAL YOUTH

Parivartan with Head Held High aims to build skills and capabilities of about 1500 disconnected rural youths across 10 districts of 10 states (Karnataka, Maharashtra, Rajasthan, Jharkhand, Bihar, Uttarakhand, Telangana, Gujarat, Haryana, Odisha). The project also assures placement of at least 70% of the trained youth in a job within a period of 39 months. These locations have been selected due to the high concentration of underprivileged youth in these regions. The project is a part of core program of HHH called Make India Capable (MIC).

HDFC Bank Parivartan and PRADAN have established a Stitching Hub in Chapati village, ThakurGanj Block, Kishanganj District. Ten women entrepreneurs, previously engaged in household chores, now realise their dream with HDFC Bank's support. These entrepreneurs, stitching clothes for local communities, have not only gained sustainable income but have also earned recognition as women entrepreneurs. Their average monthly earnings of 4000-5000 per member have significantly boosted their confidence, garnering respect within their families and society. This initiative has not only transformed their lives but has also reinforced the vital role women play in entrepreneurship and community development.

Parivartan, with an aim of mainstreaming marginalised sections of the community, has ensured access to health checkups and basic physical examinations. A total of 12 health camps have been conducted. Basic health tests such as temperature, weight, blood glucose and blood pressure have been done at these camps. Doctors from Sadar Hospital facilitated physical examinations and checkups. 900 individuals have been positively impacted from these health check-up camps.

BETTERING MEDICAL INFRASTRUCTURE AT PATNA MEDICAL COLLEGE HOSPITAL | DISTRICT - PATNA

To improve the medical infrastructure at Patna Medical College and Hospital (PMCH), which is visited by numerous patients from the outskirts of the city during emergencies, HDFC Bank Parivartan in association with Care India Solutions for Sustainable Development is in the process of setting up a Cath lab by partnering with the cardiology department of the hospital. The latter is essential for conducting tests and procedures including ablation, angiogram, angioplasty and more and will go a long way in supporting patients with critical heart ailments. The project will prove to be quite beneficial for those from socio-economically marginal backgrounds who may not be able to afford quality care otherwise.

INITIATIVE FOR MILLET REVITALISATION BY WOMEN

LOCATION: KUSHMAHA VILLAGE, CHAKAI BLOCK, JAMUI DISTRICT
BENEFICIARIES: 8 WOMEN FARMERS

THE CHALLENGE

Millet cultivation in Chakai has traditionally been limited, primarily used as fodder for animals or exchanged for rice. Unfortunately, the inclusion of millets in their own dietary habits was lacking, exacerbated by the younger generation's aversion due to its colour and taste.

OUR INTERVENTION

Under HDFC Bank Parivartan, we established an Agricultural Produce Processing Centre. This centre, managed by a group of 8 women entrepreneurs, focuses on producing various millet-based products, including peanut cookies, coconut cookies, jeera & ajwain cookies, and millet laddu. Additionally, these products are not only available in local markets but have also reached distant markets.

THE RESULT

Today, the women entrepreneurs successfully operate the processing centre, earning recognition and respect in society. Their efforts have not only revitalised millet consumption in the region but have also empowered these women to establish themselves as valuable contributors to their community.

TRANSFORMING AGRICULTURE THROUGH BIO-FLOC FISH FARMING

LOCATION: KUSOKHAR VILLAGE, CHAKANDRA PANCHAYAT, SHEIKHPURA DISTRICT
BENEFICIARIES: 10 FARMERS FROM SHIVSHANKAR KISAN SAMUH

THE CHALLENGE

Insufficient rainfall in Kusokhar village led to severe agricultural challenges, impacting productivity. Farmers struggled financially, resorting to seeking work outside the village.

OUR INTERVENTION

IDF, in collaboration with HDFC Bank Parivartan, initiated a farmer group to address challenges collectively. Ten farmers from Shivshankar Kisan Samuh embraced bio-floc fish farming, a sustainable solution optimising space and minimising resource usage.

THE RESULT

After one cycle, the group earned a substantial revenue of 110,000 rupees by selling fish. Inspired, they plan to start the next cycle in January, offering renewed hope and sustainable income to the village, showcasing the power of collective action in transforming livelihoods.
